I am pleased to provide this annual report of the Division of Student Affairs’ activities and accomplishments. This past year has been significant for Student Affairs with the implementation of several new initiatives which are detailed in the annual report. We are especially appreciative of the collaborative and cooperative efforts of our colleagues on campus and in the Fort Collins community.

The Division provides a variety of programs and services designed to help students succeed and grow. The effectiveness and improvement of these programs and services are detailed under the following Student Affairs Strategic Goals related to “Teaching and Learning”:

1. Assure Excellence in Academic Programs
2. Create Distinctive Undergraduate Experiences
3. Expose Students to Diverse Cultures
4. Integrate Academic and Co-curricular Experiences
5. Provide Quality Venues and Related Services that Support Learning

The report concludes with an interesting array of Student Affairs honors and recognitions from the past year.

You can view this Annual Report online at the Division of Student Affairs home page at www.studentaffairs.colostate.edu.

Sincerely,

Blanche Hughes, Ph.D.

Mission Statement:
The Division of Student Affairs fosters a campus community that supports students in the development of their unique potential, inspiring them to be active learners, successful graduates, and engaged global citizens.

Brand Promise:
We inspire and support active learners, successful graduates, and engaged global citizens.

Strategic Goals

1. Assure excellence in academic programs
   Access and Success: Improve the access, retention and graduation rates for all students, especially those from groups underserved by higher education.
   Learning Outcomes: Evaluate and assess student learning as a critical measure of teaching quality.

2. Create distinctive undergraduate experiences
   Active and Experiential Learning: Incorporate opportunities for active and experiential learning in all programs.

3. Expose students to diverse cultures
   Campus Diversity: Foster a campus culture that attracts and supports a diverse student body and promotes a diverse culture in which to grow, study and learn; foster learning across differences, focus on equity for all students.

4. Integrate academic and co-curricular experiences
   Learning Communities: Develop residentially based learning communities that capitalize on our strength as a destination campus.
   Student Engagement: Increase student participation in a broad array of leadership, civic involvement, intercollegiate and intramural athletics, and cultural opportunities.
   Student Well-Being: Nurture student health, safety and well-being.
   Assessment Systems: Provide the Board, campus and public with transparent measures of accountability.

5. Provide quality venues and related services that support learning
Strategic Goal 1: Assure Excellence in Academic Programs
The President’s Leadership Program (PLP) assisted CSU recruitment and retention efforts with 63 percent of PLP students citing the program as “important” or “very important” to their decision to attend and/or remain at the University. In addition, PLP administers a survey based on the CAS Standards for Leadership Education Programs. For the CAS survey, students “Agreed” or “Strongly Agreed” that PLP developed their critical thinking, communication skills, ability to collaborate, understanding of ethical leadership, commitment to social responsibility, clarification of personal values, understanding of diversity, and leadership efficacy.

Conflict Resolution and Student Conduct Services successfully assisted ASCSU (Associated Students of Colorado State University) with the design of an Honor Pledge.

Adult Learners and Veteran Services established SALUTE Veterans National Honor Society - CSU Chapter, and inducted 15 students this past spring.

Freshman students who participated in three or more Orientation and Transition Programs were retained for a second year at CSU at a higher rate (88.41 percent) than those students who participated in less than three programs (83.88 percent).

Taking Stock – 77 percent of all residence hall students participated in Taking Stock in fall 2009 (compared to 69 percent in 2008 and 50 percent in 2007) and 83 percent of these students met with their Resident Advisors to discuss their Taking Stock results (compared to 76 percent in 2008 and 68 percent in 2007). GPA for students who participated in Taking Stock was 2.88 compared to a non-participant GPA of 2.55. These improvements can be credited to the commitment and work shown by all of the Residence Life staff, particularly that of Resident Directors, Asisstant Resident Directors and Resident Advisors.

Percentages of students that are granted an Academic Dismissal appeal and return to good standing increased from 76 percent in Fall 2008 to 88 percent in Fall 2009, and those students that worked with the Academic Coach had much higher rates of returning to good standing (91 percent in Fall 2009).
than those that did not work with the Academic Coach (83 percent in Fall 2009).

» The CSU Bookstore was able to save CSU students an additional $710,000 this past year by finding less expensive versions of current textbooks and by discounting any new textbook with a selling price in excess of $150. Total savings to CSU students through all initiatives was just under $5,000,000 for the year.

» In conjunction with Natural Sciences and the Art Department, the Curfman Gallery hosted the 5th Annual Art & Sciences Exhibition, with an attendance of approximately 2,800.

» The Student Leadership Involvement and Community Engagement (SLiCE) office convened a work group of Student Affairs staff and University faculty to analyze and disseminate findings from the 2009 Multi-Institutional Study of Leadership. Four presentations were delivered to the campus community through venues such as the Professional Development Institute and Student Affairs Assessment Symposium.

» The Greek Life “Seal of Approval” assessment program continues for a sixth year to provide benchmarking and proficiency scores to chapters in several areas including Chapter Management, Leadership Development, Recruitment, Risk Management and Judicial Policies, Community Service and Philanthropy, New Member Programming and Academics.

» This year, 26 of our 35 chapters received the Seal of Approval, thus, more chapters meeting the expected benchmarks that identify them as chapters providing positive and safe experiences for their members.

» The Native American Cultural Center, through collaboration with the CSU Health Network, provides a mentoring program. The North Star Peer Mentors are able to receive 3 academic credits by taking a course (PSY 486) specifically designed to enhance mentoring skills. The participation rate for incoming Native American students (freshman, transfer, graduate) was 26 percent. Of this group, professional students had the highest participation rate of 67 percent.

» Approximately 475 first-year students registered to participate in the First Year Mentoring Program for Fall 2009 vs. 320 for Fall 2008. These students received outreach and support for academic excellence, active engagement, community and diversity through weekly meetings with faculty/staff and Peer Mentors during the fall semester.

» Campus Recreation, in collaboration with the Health Exercise Science department, provided academic credit for the Personal Fitness Training and Fitness Instructor Training classes.

» Campus Recreation Outdoor Leadership, instruction that provides academic credit via the Warner College of Natural Resources College course offerings, NRRT 350 and NRRT 351, continues to be offered due to high demand. Campus Recreation Outdoor Program instructors contributed leadership time to the Warner College of Natural Resources College Council for development of hiking and climbing programs for students in the college.

» The Campus Recreation Injury Care Program hosted four practicum students from the department of Health and Exercise Science.

» Parent and Family Programs contact with parents and families:
  › Number of e-mails – 3,116 or an average of 260 per month
  › Number of phone calls – 327 or an average of 27 per month
  › Testimonials:
    “I wanted to thank you for the informative and thoughtful articles you’ve provided that helped us get through year one! I also love having someone to email and ask questions and even get a very quick response!!”
    – CSU Parent

    “From a parent standpoint I can’t emphasize how important it was to be made a part of my child’s experience...”
and be given contact information at CSU. And, to be encouraged to call with any concerns!!! I am well aware my child is an adult and can make great decisions, but at the same time if I sense a problem on any level I am so relieved that CSU will be there to help work out a solution.” – CSU Parent

» The Campus Recreation Challenge Ropes Course staff conducted assessments of 108 programs, obtaining 323 responses. On a five point scale, the average rating of the overall experience by groups facilitated on the ropes course was 4.8.

» The Academic Advancement Center (AAC) served 289 students in the past year, with services including needs assessment, career counseling, peer mentoring, study strategies support, and general counseling and advising. The Center provided 2,261 hours of group tutoring to 201 of the enrolled participants.

» CSU Health Network staff provided:

  › Practicum experiences for seven second year doctoral students from the Department of Psychology

  › Internship experiences for four Counseling and Career Development second year masters students in the School of Education.

  › Practicum experience for five HES students; internship for one Psychology and one SAHE student; eight practicum from HNFS (human nutrition and food science).

  › Internship experiences for four Master of Social Work students from the School of Social Work.

› Advanced practicum in psychology experience for one CSU fifth year doctoral student in psychology and one DU fifth year doctoral student in psychology.

› Six graduate student assistantships/clinical training for five doctoral students in psychology and one doctoral student in education.

› Full-time psychology internship experience for four doctoral students from APA-accredited psychology graduate programs at University of Southern Mississippi, Texas A & M, University of California Santa Barbara, and Brigham Young University.

› The Asian/Pacific American Cultural Center Scholar’s Class in its first year had ten students participate. Dr. Ray Yang and the A/PACC Director co-taught the one-credit class which provides an opportunity for the staff to connect with students who might not have usually engaged in the services of the office. The topics covered during the class were domestic violence, anti-Asian violence, model minority, LGBT Asian Americans, activism, identity development, and Asian American history.

› Students enrolled in AAC once again achieved impressive outcomes. AAC students entering in the Fall 2008 cohort persisted to the second year at a rate of 86.4 percent. The six-year graduation rate for the cohort entering in Fall 2003 was 69.2 percent.

› Health Network staff members taught eight courses, including Key Academic, Psychology Health and the Mind, Psychology Mental Illness and the Media, Forensic Psychology, Psychology of Happiness, Psychology Group Therapy (graduate), Psychology Seminars for peer mentors in the Native American Cultural Center and Black/African American Cultural Center.

In order to assure that students were afforded access to program services from the earliest possible point in their academic year, AAC extended its outreach to students and parents prior to the start of the fall semester. As a result, the program started the fall nearly fully enrolled, and maintained a waitlist beginning in October.
Strategic Goal 2: Create Distinctive Undergraduate Experiences
» Puksta Scholars developed a strong community of service-focused students through group events and one-on-one meetings. Individual student projects included an international effort to sponsor a blanket-making venture into an income generating project for families in Colombia, South America, and an informal resource room for families to pick up baby clothing and supplies at no cost. The most highly developed project was the co-creation of the CSU “Dream Project” that reaches out to local high school youth in an effort to help them consider college. The inspiration of the Dream Project included a trip to the University of Washington to observe a similar initiative on this campus.

» Women’s Lacrosse Club won the 2010 US Women’s Division Lacrosse Intercollegiate Associates National Champions.

» Katie Nepil and Lindsey Hudek were named 1st team All-Americans

» Conflict Resolution and Student Conduct Services conducted 66 conflict resolution trainings, serving 2,804 participants.

» The Native American Cultural Center and The Little Shop of Physics (LSOP) collaborated to visit three American Indian reservation schools over Winter Break and Spring Break. The total number of students who experimented with the exhibits was well over 1,700 and approximately 47 teachers participated in the after school teacher workshops.

» The Health Network developed the Behavioral Health program to seamlessly provide mental health services along with primary care to students being treated by primary health care providers.

» Student Legal Services served 971 students (1,146 in 2008-09) - with one attorney position vacant Sept.-Nov. The total number of contacts with students was 1,629, (2,401 in 2008-09).

» The Black/African American Cultural Center instituted 2 leadership programs to meet the growing demand for programming regarding leadership development. The Albert Yates Leadership Development Institute (LDI) worked with a group of seven students during the Spring semester, helping the students develop a personal leadership profile that can be used in the students’ future leadership endeavors. Also, the B/AACC President’s Council brought together the leaders from each of the B/AACC affiliated student organizations for monthly meetings during the Fall semester. This program was developed in response to stated student concerns and, according to student feedback, helped the leaders better understand each other’s organizations and helped develop better relationships between organizations.

» Men’s Baseball Club won the 2010 National Collegiate Baseball Association Champions.

» Thomas Johnson was named World Series MVP.

» In Spring 2010, the Housing and Dining Live Green Team, with funding from a Rocky Mountain Institute grant and a partnership with Facilities Management and Public Affairs, launched the Green Warrior Campaign. The ten-week campaign coincided with RecycleMania and rewarded students for energy-saving behavior. More than 250 students took part in the virtual campaign with significant contributions towards personal and campus-wide sustainability actions.

» Adult Learner and Veteran Services (ALVS) became a stand-alone office on July 1, 2009. ALVS provides support for approximately 3,000 undergraduate and 3,500 graduate students who are 23 years of age and older. Included in this number are approximately 464 undergraduate students who are Pell grant eligible and who claimed at least one dependant on their FAFSA (student parents) and an estimated 500 student veterans returning to college after their military service.

» The total service hours contributed from Student Leadership Involvement and Civic Engagement (SLiCE) programs was approximately 300,000 hours, and the total leadership/personal development training hours through SLiCE programs/services was approximately 42,566 hours. The number of students directly served through SLiCE programs/services was 16,600, and the number of students indirectly served through walk-ins and phone referrals was 11,264. From a sheer economic perspective, the value of service provided by CSU students to our local, regional, national, and international communities equates to approximately $6,036,000, when calculated using the national figure of $20.12 per hour established by the Corporation for National and Community Service. From the perspective of student leadership development, involvement, and community engagement: priceless!

» The Greek Life Office worked with Residence Life to create a supplemental position that worked 5-8 hours a week in the Greek Life Office identifying opportunities to integrate diversity and social justice more fully into our community.

» Residential Dining Services hosts special dinner events outside the normal daily dining routine which help to retain students by providing monotony breaks. Over 30 special events were held this year with expanded menus and themes;
some of which included
live bands and dancing
while all encouraged student socialization and interaction. These events become more and more popular with students as evidenced by the increase in participation. A total of 26,247 guests participated in the festivities throughout the academic year.

» Lory Student Center
Event Planning provided undergraduate internships to students with a focus on event planning of large events from meeting initially with customers for planning to coordinating services on the day of the event;
student interns planned 20 percent of ballroom events during the Fall and Spring semesters. A marketing internship was also provided to a student with a focus on public relations communication including developing an employee newsletter, updating the Event Planning Services brochure, updating the client list and contact information, and creating a communication plan in the case of large-scale cancellations due to weather. Event Planning Services student employees are in key leadership roles including Building Managers, Reservationists, and Event Coordinators; student employees plan and service events in the LSC and other off-campus venues and are trained in customer service, logistical planning, problem-solving, and marketing equipment and services.

» The SLiCE office sponsored the first-ever Project Homeless Connect event in Fort Collins. Project Homeless Connect: Homeward 2020 is an initiative of the Community Foundation of Northern Colorado that seeks to end homelessness in Fort Collins by 2020. This event brought awareness to homelessness in the community with highlighting fundamental support of the homeless population in the area through an array of resources.

» Approximately 150 CSU students were paired one-on-one with homeless and nearly-homeless clients, escorting them to the different stations at the event. Student volunteers (mostly from PLP) researched this social issue and were thoughtfully prepared to participate in this event.
Nearly 1,000 hours of direct service were provided by students and 300 hours of training/personal development.

The NR 220 course and Eco-Week (PSD 5th grade environmental science) provide excellent hands-on experiential opportunities for students at the Pingree Park mountain campus. These programs total 17 instructional weeks.

With an increased number of student users, the number of students needing advocacy services from Resources for Disabled Students also increased. Over 140 students received this service during Fall 2009 and over 130 students received this service during Spring 2010. The rate of withdrawal of the students receiving this support was relatively stable at about five percent.

The Health Network Learning Assistance Programs served a higher percentage of underrepresented populations by offering Pell Grant recipients services at a reduced rate.

Conflict Resolution and Student Conduct Services (CRSCS) facilitated 11 Party Partners workshops, serving 134 participants. Party Partners is a collaborative program with CSU, City of Fort Collins Neighborhood Services, and Fort Collins Police that addresses responsible partying and the awareness of local ordinances.

CRSCS participant reflections on what will change after taking the Party Partners workshop:

“I will consider my actions a lot more with regard to having people over.”

“I will drink less when hosting a party or not drink at all and talk more frequently to my neighbors.”

“It just made me more informed about city ordinances and how to be more responsible.”

Housing and Dining provided training for HDS undergraduate staff in coordination with Environmental Health Services, CSUPD, Health Network, and the Poudre Fire Authority.

Emergency Response training for Resident Assistants, Desk Workers, Summer Conference Employees, and Apartment Life Staff – five sessions, 330 students

Customer Service – three sessions, 222 students

Building evacuation drills – all halls and I-House/ Lory Apartments once each semester

Fire Extinguisher and Active Shooter training – 225 student and grad staff members Campus Recreation Sport Club program staff facilitated the Logging Sports Club student members to secure the bid and complete subsequent arrangements to host the Association of Western Foresters regional championship competition, a televised event on ESPN sponsored by STIHL, at the CSU Foothills Campus location.

El Centro served over 1,500 students during the 2009-2010 academic year and campus and community individuals continue to contact El Centro for presentations, consultations and to assist with various issues affecting the Latina/o population. El Centro staff have been actively involved in providing retention programs (i.e., panel discussions, hosted speakers, workshops, and presentations) that have provided students with the tools to graduate from Colorado State University.

Student Legal Services published regular columns in The Collegian on relevant legal issues for students.

The Coming Out Group (COG)-Sexuality sponsored by the Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual and Transgender Resource Center was co-facilitated by the Director of the GLBT Resource Center and a CASA advisor. The COG was extended to ten weeks and participation increased to seven students, which was an increase of at least 25 percent from the year before. All participants indicated a score of six or seven for both their safety and the extent that the COG positively impacted their experience at CSU.

Off Campus Life (OCL) continued to have a significant presence on campus, having over 10,000 participants at 141 presentations and events during the year.

The Black/African American Cultural Center continued the Donald W. Wilson Professional Mentoring Program for upper division students. This program, named after CSU alum and community mentor Donald W. Wilson, was developed to provide an environment of mutual support and sharing amongst faculty/staff members and students through specifically designed and individually prescribed mentor/protégé relationships. The program served several students seeking to network with Black professionals in a variety of fields, prepare their career portfolios, and develop the skills needed to contribute to our global economy in meaningful ways.

» Twenty-six campus events received free Pepsi product as part of the Pepsi Campus of Character Beverage Grant program managed by the RamCard Office. The goal of this program is to support CSU’s cultural and diversity efforts, promote a sense of community life at CSU, and promote University service efforts.

» OCL completely revamped the rental listing service with a more user-friendly set up and state-of-the-art features, called RentalSearch. The site has received almost 16,000 hits since its inception from approximately 7,500 unique visitors, with an average of 121 visits per day.

» The El Centro Awards Ceremony has been recognizing and celebrating the successes of Hispanic/Latino/Mexican American students for 30 plus years. The purpose and objectives of our current event is to honor and recognize CSU Latino leaders, Multicultural Greek organizations, Poudre School District Latino Leaders, and El Centro office supporters. The Awards Ceremony also includes recognition of local Fort Collins community partnerships. Additionally, the event serves to expose students from historically underrepresented groups to Colorado State University. The CSU Alumni Association works with El Centro in order to continue to make and maintain connections with alumni. Over 300 individuals participated in this year’s event. Consistent and positive feedback about the importance of this program is received via letters, e-mails and phone calls. Over $4,000 was raised to coordinate the event.
Strategic Goal 3: Expose Students to Diverse Cultures
Eighty-nine percent of students indicated that they find Key to be welcoming and supportive of students of their background and experience. 92.3 percent of students strongly/agreed that their awareness of diversity has increased through their Key Plus experience. On the CSU campus climate survey, many students commented that Key Communities was the experience that had the greatest positive impact on them in regard to diversity.

As part of Preview Orientation, a Multiple Identities presentation was implemented to encourage students to reflect on the diversity they bring to campus, to discover their peers’ diversity, and to learn about resources on campus to further their diversity education. 79.23 percent of student participants agreed or strongly agreed that the Multiple Identities session encouraged them to be more invested in learning about their peers with identities different than their own. One student commented that, “It was really involved and really made me think of what kind of person I was and what kind of person I become as a CSU student.”

The Asian/Pacific American Cultural Center provided numerous programs and services to the University and the Fort Collins community from the P.A.L.S. (Participation Awareness Learning and Sharing) Asian Fest, A/PACC Scholar’s class, Student Advocate Program, First Year Mentoring Group, T.E.A. Time programs, and the Peer Mentoring program.

Approximately 2,500 students, staff, faculty, and community members attended events held during November’s Native American Awareness Month sponsored by the Native American Cultural Center.

The Fitness area strategically began group activity classes focusing on cultural styles such as Zumba, a Latin-inspired dance fused with fitness movements. Expansion of such offerings will be continued in an effort to engage a broader audience and generate interest in cultural awareness within the campus community.
The Somos Rams/HLLI (We are Rams/Hispanic Latino Leadership Institute) Leadership Retreat, sponsored by El Centro, focused on understanding how Latino cultural values and traditions can positively impact the academic and overall success of 25 Colorado State University freshmen Latino students and 25 PSD middle school students. The Somos Rams Leadership Retreat aimed to enhance the Latino freshman student experience at Colorado State University through participation in a culturally relevant leadership retreat.

The Health Network Travel Clinic works closely with the Office of International Programs and the Study Abroad Program to assist students, faculty and staff who are traveling internationally with health, safety and immunization needs. 568 individual travel consults were conducted this past year.

The coordinator of Alternative Text Services with Resources for Disabled Students refined the process of conversion to decrease the turnaround time to less than two weeks. A new protocol was developed to keep up with the demands of the increased needs of student users from over 20 books to 180 book requests.

The Greek Life Office hosted its first cross council overnight leadership retreat, aimed at providing a safe and supportive space for all incoming Greek leaders to learn more about each other’s council, to understand the similarities and differences.

The Career Center collaborated with Resources for Disabled Students to fill a full schedule (12 slots) for a recruiter from the Workforce Recruitment Program (a federal program designed to reach out and increase participation in internships and full time positions for students with disabilities).
A new GBLT Resource Center Safe Zone committee was created, and included representatives from Residence Life, Admissions, School of Education, and Campus Recreation. This committee met regularly throughout the 2009 – 2010 year, and created a module system to replace the previous Safe Zone program. Pilot workshops have been launched, and the Admissions staff volunteered to be the first group to experience and assess the new modules.

Apartment Life Central Programs offered over 46 programs to support an inclusive and diverse community environment including:

- Ten issues of Keeping in Touch newsletters produced with approximately 124 articles edited and published. 11,500 copies total were distributed nation-wide, to CSU members, and area residents and staff.

- Eleven bulletin boards created and displayed in areas.

- Three Friday Afternoon Club barbecue events facilitated.

- Nine programmed Friday Afternoon Club events with over 440 residents, community members, and staff served.

Colorado State University continues to provide a model National Undergraduate Fellow Program (NUFP) coordinated by the office of the VPSA. Due to significant NUFP involvement, both nationally and regionally, many institutions have consulted or requested documentation from CSU regarding creation or improvement of individual NUFP programs.

The LSC Graduate Assistant assisted Blanche Hughes as the Acting Vice President for Diversity by conducting focus groups with the Student Diversity Programs and Services (SDPS) offices, serving on the Diversity Operations Team, the Diversity Conference Planning Committee, the High School Focus Day Planning Committee, as well as the search committee that selected the VP for Diversity.

Campus Activities’ Diversity & Social Justice Programs (DSJP) area was involved in planning and implementing over 30 diversity-related programs including Sonia Nazario’s lecture and Women at Noon presentation, a presentation by a survivor of the Hiroshima bombing, Kip Fulbeck’s lecture and workshop, Platanos and Collard Greens, Bear Bergman, Unnatural Causes documentary series presentation and facilitated discussions, Black Jew Dialogues, In Whose Honor? in response to the Cowboys vs. Indians Facebook event, Yellow Rage, and the ASL Comedy Tour.

ASAP (University programming board) intentionally changed their recruiting efforts to increase the diversity of the candidate pool, which led to more diverse students to be represented on the ASAP board. This resulted in approximately 25 percent of their applicant pool coming from under-represented identities.

The Ram Connections Affinity Group; “African American Women of Excellence,” included nine young women who attended and participated in the group on a regular weekly basis. In these meetings, the students built lasting relationships, had tough conversations, and assisted one another with personal issues. Through several activities and events, relationships were established and the students found outside professional mentors.

» Adult Learners and Veteran Services coordinated the first student veteran CSU Veteran’s Day Celebration that was held November 11, 2009. The event included a fundraiser for the Student Veteran’s of America CSU chapter, a women’s veteran panel for Women at Noon, and a panel of experts that addressed the issues for higher education.

» SLiCE collaborated with the Office of International Programs, Vice President for Student Affairs office, and the Associated Students of Colorado State University (ASCSU) to create a student leadership exchange between CSU and the Universidad Autonoma de Yucatan (UADY). The CSU/UADY Leadership Exchange was educational and will become our newest co-curricular program in SLiCE emphasizing “leadership in action” and Spanish language immersion, with a mission of bringing together students for a meaningful leadership, service, and language exchange.

› The exchange between CSU and UADY included a trip to the Merida, Mexico, in the state of Yucatan and hosting the UADY student delegation at CSU.

› The specific goals of the exchange included:

- Engaging students in experiences of domestic and international diversity
- Exploring and applying the concepts of leadership and service to practical projects
- Strengthening Spanish language skills
- Meeting authentic community needs in Fort Collins and the Yucatan
- Creating a sustainable, long-term student exchange between CSU and UADY students

› There were nine CSU students participating with two staff members supporting the exchange with a total of 300 hours of leadership/personal development training.

› Thirteen percent of PLP students identified as students of color, matching the University’s student of color representation. Additionally, student of color applications to PLP increased substantially from 2009-2010 (9 percent increase for high school students; 11 percent increase for current CSU students) and 28 percent of the students admitted for the 2010-11 academic year identified as students of color.

» Residence Life staff provided: training for Global Village mentors, 18 diversity and social justice focused programs for residence hall students through GUIDE, two new annual diversity programs for residents: Secret Bias and a Faith and Sexuality Panel, two diversity programs to RHA students, the GUIDE book club read and discussed 35 Dumb Things Well-Intended People Say and Nickel and Dimed, monthly diversity movies and discussions. Training for all Residence Life staff included:

 › Participation in The Tunnel of Oppression
 › Hate Crimes and Bias Incidents Protocol › Training with Maura Cullen on 35 Dumb Things Well-Intended People Say

SLiCE worked closely with the International Programs office to offer three international alternative breaks:

 › Achiote, Panama: CEASPA, La Asociación Centro de Estudios y Acción Social Panameño. This non-profit agency strives for social justice by creating an economy formed by ecotourism, in order to alleviate poverty and preserve the environment.

 › Samburu, Kenya: Save the Elephants, Umoja, and Gir Gir Primary and Muslim Primary Schools. Save the Elephants is a conservation-based NGO that studies the habitat and conservation of the African Elephant.

 › Agua Prieta, Mexico: Humane Borders. Humane Borders is a non-profit organization providing humanitarian assistance to those people risking their lives to cross the U.S./Mexico border.

» The Career Center Liaison to the College of Natural Sciences presented at the regional conference and worked with the Students as Leaders in Science (SLS) group on resumes, networking and graduate school. Career Center staff also worked with Society of Asian, Chicano, and Native Americans in Science (SACNAS) students to help prepare them for attending a national conference in Texas.

» Colorado State University’s Native American Cultural Center has participated in honoring the Native American Awareness Month for the past six years. The event is recognized nationally and celebrated locally with numerous events and activities. The 2009 Native American Awareness month calendar of events included: Native American Awareness month kick-off at the Fort Collins Museum, storytelling, a Pow-Wow 101 presentation, the 27th Annual CSU POW WOW, open house, documentary screenings, presentations highlighting key issues affecting Native Americans, and the Duhesa Lounge Exhibition Opening Celebration. These efforts in collaboration with the Fort Collins community; AISES, ASCSU, Ethnic Studies, Division of Student Affairs, Department of History, College of Business, Fort Collins Museum, and the Fort Collins Library.
Strategic Goal 4:
Integrate Academic and Co-Curricular Experiences
While the 2009-2010 year presented significant challenges associated with the national and state economic downturn, the Career Center took steps to augment internship opportunities through partnerships with the Colleges of Veterinary Medicine and Biomedical Sciences and Liberal Arts and through an Internship Networking event.

A new transfer learning community for transfer students with an interest in business was implemented for nine students who enrolled in either MATH 141 or ECON 202 and participated in a community meeting once a week for the first eight weeks of the semester that covered topics such as the College of Business, business-related majors at CSU, involvement opportunities, and resume and interviewing skills.

Adult Learner and Veteran Services assisted Dr. Kevin Oltjenbruns, former Vice-Provost and Co-director of the Osher Lifelong Learning Institute with writing the proposal for a one million dollar endowment for the Osher Reentry Scholarship. The proposal was accepted by the Bernard Osher Foundation and Colorado State was awarded the endowment in June 2010. This ensures that the Osher Reentry Scholarship for adult learners will be in existence at Colorado State for many years to come.

For eight consecutive years, the LSC sponsored a graduation celebration for its student employees, recognizing their contributions to serving the campus community. This year’s celebration recognized 110 graduating student staff members from all areas and departments of the LSC.
The A/PACC Student Advocate Program (SAP) launched in Spring 2010 provides Asian/Pacific Island American and ally student volunteers to challenge social constructions about diverse identities and challenge pervasive myths about the Asian/Pacific Island Americans. Student Advocates will present to groups at Colorado State University and communities within the state of Colorado.

ASAP provided 26 internships in marketing, sports management, volunteer management, graphic design, communication, marketing, business, finance, and event planning. These internships allowed students to seek academic credit for work with ASAP.

The Rams Engaging in Active Leadership (REAL) Certificate program completed its second year. The REAL Experience allows participants to advance their own knowledge with regard to effective, intellectual, and cultural leadership. In addition, this co-curricular certificate program also prepares and develops participants to be more productive thinkers and to become more civically engaged. SLiCE staff partnered with workshop facilitators from all over the campus to offer a wide variety of workshops. Some of the partnerships
The Health Network coordinated the UConsiderThis program, an alcohol education program for all incoming freshman.

Campus Recreation provides a wide range of part-time employment opportunities to over three hundred students annually. The professional staff committed to a focused student development progression, identifying incremental leadership opportunities in the planning and decision-making of program or service management and delivery to the campus community. These efforts resulted in relationship development between professional and student staff that supported learning opportunities applicable to career positions after college for students.

The GLBT Resource Center sponsored and co-sponsored a variety of events with Asian/Pacific American Cultural Center, ASAP, ASCSU, the Black African American Cultural Center, GUIDE, the Lory Student Center, Residence Life, and the CSU Health Network.

Four co-sponsored events were the most well attended: Caryn Aviv, co-editor of American Queer and local professor, Bear Bergman, Jewish and genderqueer author of The Nearest Exit May Be Behind You, and his workshop on transferable skills to the business world.

To provide a high level of safety and risk management within the Student Recreation Center facility, student staff is certified in CPR/AED and Blood Borne Pathogens with up to seven employees working at any time throughout the building who act as first responders to participant injuries or sudden illness.

Strategic Goal 5: Provide Quality Venues and Related Services that Support Learning
The CSU Health Network provided service to over 17,000 different individual patients/clients in FY10 generating over 66,000 patient visits.

In the 2010 Education Benchmark Inc. survey, the LSC scored higher than the average of our peers in 9 of 12 factors and 80 percent of students surveyed visit the LSC at least once a week. Results for the Bookstore were the highest they’ve been in the past 10 years and were significantly higher than the scores of our peers. The scores reflect student satisfaction with staff as well as products (including variety and price). In addition, the LSC Custodial Department received its highest student satisfaction rating since the survey began ten years ago.

An update to the LSC 20-Year Master Plan was completed in April and a comprehensive schedule which sequences necessary steps through construction has been developed. The process included student leaders from the Governing Board, ASCSU, SDPS, faculty and alumni representation, the Chief of Staff from the President’s Office, and numerous staff and constituent groups from throughout the campus. Continued input into this planning process will be critical over the next two years.

Conflict Resolution and Student Conduct Services adjudicated approximately 2,000 student conduct cases this past academic year.

85 percent of students reported they were treated with respect and 78 percent of students indicated they were treated fairly through CRSCS processes.

Approval to proceed with design of the Theatre was provided by the Board of Governors (BOG) at their May meeting. Noted as Phase 2A of the LSC Master Plan, the Theatre project is projected to cost $6 million and will be designed and bid to include a new south entry/Curfman Gallery space as an “ad alternate” pending construction bidding. Construction is slated to begin in May 2011 with final completion in January 2012 (which sets the stage for Phase 2B of the LSC Master Plan). Approval for the project was provided by both Student Fee Review Board (SFRB) and the ASCSU, with no student fee increase.

» CSU residence hall students were more satisfied, in general, with their dining services when compared to the entire sample of 100 institutions when asked: “In general, how satisfied or dissatisfied are you with the dining services provided by your college/university?”

» Campus Recreation collaborated with Division and University partners to investigate and purchase a new facility scheduling software package that will seamlessly streamline access to programs and services for participant while enhancing communications and improving customer service.

» An online sandwich ordering service, “RAMwich,” was added to the Braiden Dining Center menu on March 22, 2010. The new service allows students to place a custom order online and choose a pick-up time that fits their class schedule. To order, students/faculty/staff simply log in to ramwich.colostate.edu with their eID and select from eleven sandwich and salad options. Student’s meal plan or RamCash cash is automatically debited when the order is placed. At the designated pick-up time, customers stop by the conveniently-located facility at the south end of the Braiden Dining Center, grab their order and go!

» Technology innovations in the Fitness Program included installing an instructor control center for audio/visual applications in the Cycling Studio and redesigning the CSU Mind, Body, Spirit Fair web page to improve navigation of the site.

» The Adopt-A-Neighbor Fall Clean-Up event, sponsored by Off Campus Life, had record-number volunteers in November 2009, matching over 600 students with 100 neighborhood projects. Additionally, 1,295 bags of leaves were taken to the Hoffman Mill for recycling.

» Campus Recreation hosted the CU-Boulder, University of Hawaii, University of Wyoming, Utah State University, and Texas State University providing information, data and experiential knowledge of recreation center planning/designing and staff development projects at their respective institution.

» The Health Network began implementation of an enhanced electronic health record (PyraMED, version P5) that will integrate medical and counseling services into one record system to improve quality and coordination of health care delivery services.

» The Academic Advancement Center has assumed leadership to facilitate information and outreach to Foster Care (or emancipated) youth at CSU with the formation of the Foster Care Interest Group that includes various offices and personnel.

» Housing and Dining Services implemented wireless network access in the Towers complex for residents, employees, and visitors. This is the first phase of a bigger wireless project that will continue to enhance access to our computing environment and respond to the needs and interests of our students.

» The number of students self-identifying as having a disability continued to rise. There are now more than 1000 students enrolled on campus who are current or potential users of accommodations. This is approximately a 17 percent increase over the previous year. The majority of students use Alternative Testing and that service saw an increase in demand. During finals week for Fall 2009, over 500 exams were administered. For Spring 2010, over 700 exams. This increase required a new strategy and a call for volunteers across the division produced over 25 individuals who assisted with monitoring the distant locations needed to accommodate the large number of students.

» The Academic Advancement Center continued the development of an alumni group, officially affiliating the AAC Alumni Association with the CSU Alumni Association and with the national Council for Educational Opportunity Alumni Association.

» Housing and Dining Services (HDS) continues to invest in their facilities. Since 2004, HDS has added 1,177 new beds in Summit Hall and the Academic Village (Honors, Engineering and Aspen). Since 400 beds in Ellis were replaced by the Academic Village, HDS has a net gain of 777 beds. The Commons in the Academic Village replaces four outdated dining facilities with the Ram’s Horn winning the 2009 Facility Design Project of the Year.

» The Health Network provided mental health services (e.g., stress management, sexual health) to students through the Wellness Zone in the Lory Student Center. Other services offered at the Wellness Zone were chair massage, relaxation station, Ask the RD, Pat’s Pleasure Parlor, and RAMotion.

» Career Center counselors and liaisons provided services through more than 7,500 counseling appointments, an increase of 14 percent over the previous year. In addition, Career Center workshops, career fairs, and presentations were attended by 13,000 students.

» The CSU Health Network played a vital role in managing pandemic flu, using our preparedness plans and information from public health sources. Dr. Jane Higgins served as the medical consultant for the campus, assisting administrators and public relations officers in communicating up-to-date information.

» The Career Center expanded the Federal Career Panel and Networking Event and significantly increased student participation. In its second year, the Career Center grew this event by over 100 percent to 230 from 100 the year before. Fifteen employers represented a broad variety of government careers such as ICE, DOD, Department of State, and EPA.

» Seven clinical staff participated in the six month Primary Care Behavioral Health training program through the University of Massachusetts that led to certification in primary care behavioral health.

» The Health Network moved the Testing Center from Clark to Aylesworth, which makes the Testing Center more accessible and visible while providing a more comfortable space for testing.

» Parent and Family Programs collaborated with Development to create a new RAMFAM Association Business Directory.

› After a call-out in our monthly e-newsletter, parents and family members recommended many local businesses in different service categories, based on individual positive service experiences. RAMFAM Association members and staff members solicited sponsorships for this directory.

› In its inaugural year, the directory raised $7,400.

› 63 businesses were nominated and 16 businesses joined.

› Collaborated on numerous initiatives to cultivate $95,050 in gifts and donations to the Parents Fund and assisted with the dispersal of $30,068 to support programs and initiatives that enrich the lives of student and their families.
