

Action Plan 3 (Orientation Programs; Goal 7):

Students who engage in Ram Orientation programs will be able to identify at least two strategies for academic success at CSU.

Assessment Method:

Students will respond to an electronic program evaluation after the orientation experience that includes a quantitative measure of attitude toward the achievement of this outcome and a qualitative measure of the actual learning of this outcome. The question states, "After attending Ram Orientation, I can identify at least two strategies for academic success at CSU." Participants are asked to respond on a scale including Strongly Agree, Agree, Disagree, Strongly Disagree, and Not Applicable. In addition, students are asked to respond to "Please describe at least two steps you will take to ensure a successful academic and personal transition to CSU."

Expected Performance Level:

Success will be measured by 90% combined strongly agree and agree responses and students' ability to demonstrate the learning outcome.

Analysis of Achievements:
